THE STORY OF A MORMON. - A correspondeut of the Cincinuati Commercial, who is travelling through Arizona, writes from a ferrymaster's cabin under date of the 2d instant: The time has passed pleasantly enough at this cabin for the past two days, and I could be almost content if my horse was in good pasture. Mrs. Doyle is a thorough frontier woman, and informs me that 'Our old gent has had eighteen wives. Two left him, one went to the States and another to Montana, and when Me-Kean got up such a bobbery he divided his property among them that were living, and only regarded her and Rachel, the one at the ranche toward Kanah. Old gent had had fif-ty-two children, mos of 'em living; had been through New Mexico and all that country with the Mormon battalion, and had been a big man in the church, but was now here on a mission, tending to this ferry. The Mormons will establish a fine ferry here, and a good road, as they intend to settle all the good country on the other side, and are now settling into Arizona as fast as they can. Will settle Potato Valley first, then down in the White and San Francisco Mountains,' &c. "Her own history was both sad and interesting. She was born in Brighton, England, and reared in London. Her folks were well to-do English, and signs of early education and refinement showed plainly through the rough coating of a frontier and Mormon life. She had embraced Mormonism at the age of twenty, and came at once to Utah-now sixteen years ago-in the first hand-cart company. They got through with little suffering. It was the company after that that suffered so. She 'had gone in second to Major Doyle by express request of Brigham Young. They had pioneered all the new towns south. Had a fine place in Harmony, and sold for $4,000 when ordered here ou a mission. Was living here in the extreme of hardship, and her folks begging her to come to them. And now, at the end of all these sacrifices, a growing scepticism was evident in her talk. It was plain that she doubted seriously whether all this had not been vainworse than useless. She firmly believed in polygamy, she said, when she, came a girl from England, but not now; there was so much in it that could not be from God.

"What must be the agony of a conscientious soul what has endured and suffered everything for a faith—a lifetime of sacrifice for an idea—when convinced at last that the idea is a snare, the faith a delusion.

Mocking Birds' Tricks.-Mr. George Elliott, of this city, has four genuine mocking birds, which he keeps in an attic room of his residence, in a long cage extending out of one of the windows. The birds have become imitators of all sorts of feathered warblers, and of chickens, ducks and even locomotives, and so true is their mocking that not only persons but birds are deceived by them. During the summer a family of robins has been reared in the trees at Gen. McKaig's grounds surrounding his residence and but a short distance from Mr. Elliott's. A few days since the young robins left their nest, and were flitting about among the tress. Hearing calls proceeding from the mocking birds, so much like that of their par ents, the young robins flew to the cage, and an adjoining window being opened, entered the house to find themselves deceived, when they flew back to the neighboring trees only to be allured again and again by the calls of the mocking bird. Finally Mr. Elliott concluded to catch the young robins when next they entered the house, which he did, and placed them in a cage. Soon the old birds found out where their young ones were, and have since regularly brought food to them, and flying to the bars of the cage have fed the little prisoners as diligently as if they had been in their native nest. Another singular instance connected with these birds, is, that one of the young robins was placed in a cage with a red bird, at which the latter seemed exceedingly rejoiced and paid great attention to the new comer. He even fed it as if it was one of his own family. In fact, he so far over-fed, that he almost stuffed it to death, and for fear that he would kill it with kindness the young robin was removed, and strange to say, the red-bird has exhibited signs of sorrow ever since, sitting gloomily on his perch all day long, and almost refusing to eat. The mocking birds have also allowed canaries and other birds to their cage, and even young chickens have entered the doors, and ducks quacked around the house in answer to supposed kindred. The mocking birds take great delight in deceiving others, and as soon as they perceive a strange bird at their cage, set up a series of songs and warblings as sweet as they are astonishing to hear. - Cumberland News. LUNATIC ASYLUMS.-The New York Tribune publishes a paragraph regarding the reappearance in the city of a New York banker after sixteen months' absence, during which time he had been confined in the Bloomingdale

Lunatic Asylum, though to all appearances, and according to the admission of his keepers, he was unquestionably sane. The gentleman in question was arrested last year while at his breakfast table, and was taken to the Asylum without a word of explanation. He reports that the treatment of the insane by their keepers is simply revolting. As for himself, he was never treated medically during the whole period of his incarceration. He kept a minute diary of events as they occurred during imprisonment, and this he has given to his lawyer to be made the basis of an affidavit upon which to institute legal proceedings in behalf not only of himself, but also of three ladies at present retained in the asylum, and whom the gentleman declares to be sane. These ladies are to be brought before the court on a writ of habeas corpus next week. The revelations that will be made in this case will doubtless prove highly interesting, The evils of lunatic asylums have often been made the theme of denunicationsometimes with justice and sometimes unjustly; but there is reason to believe, judging from the outline developments published by the Tribune in the matter of this New York victim, that many of the alleged offences of lunatic asylums many of the alleged offences of lunatic asylums will be so thoroughly exposed as to bring about a charge in the management of these as about a change in the management of these establishments. A CHOICE article of Roasted and Ground RIO COFFEE at 28c per lb, for sale by the CHINESE TEA COMP'Y., 11 north Royal street, Alexandria, Va.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS.

Immediately cured and Full Vigor Restored.

This distressing Affection—which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgencies. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the natural powers are lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions weakened. Loss of Procreative Power Nervous, Irritability, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Constitutional Debility, and Wasting of the Frame, Cough, Consump-Immediately cured and Full Vigor Restored. and Wasting of the Frame, Cough, Consumption, Decay and Death.

A CURE WARRANTED IN TWO DAY

Relief in Six Hours! No Mercury! Persons ruined by Ignorant, Trifling Pretenders and their Deadly Poison, should apply immediately.

Member of the Royal College of Surgery of London, Graduate of one of the most eminent Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the hospi-tals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with inging in the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately. TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE. Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, unlitting them for either business, study, society or mar-These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by the early habits of youth, viz:

Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symtoms of Consump-MENTALLY.-T e fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Fore-bodings, Aversion to Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced. Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of Consumption.

YOUNG MEN Who have injured themselves by a certain practice, already described, a habit frequently learned from evil companions or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately. What a pity that a young man, the hope of

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyment of life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in pernicious habits. Such persons must, before comtemplations MARRIAGE Reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without these the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another is blighted with our own.

DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE. When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of his painful disease, it too often happens that an this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery de ters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease makes their appearance, such as alternated core threat, discovery note. ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose iall in, and the victim of this awtul disease becomes a horrid object of commisseration till death puts a period to his dreadful suffering, by sending him to that undiscovered country "from whence no traveller returns." whence no traveller returns."

It is a melancholy fact that thousands DIE victims to this terrible disease, through falling into the hands of ignorant or unskilful PRE-TENDERS, who, by the use of that deadly Poison, Mercury, &c., destroy the constitution, and incapable of curing, keep the unbappy sufand incapable of curing, keep the unbappy sufand incapable of curing. ferer month after month taking their noxious or injurious compounds, and instead of being re-stored to a renewal of Life, Vigor and Happinesa in despair leaves him with ruined Health to sigh over his galling disappointment.
